Olist E-Commerce SQL Analysis: Key Insights & Recommendations

1. Revenue Growth & Seasonality

- Highest monthly revenue: $1.19M in November 2017
- November revenue increased 53.25% MoM
- Revenue declined 26.49% in December
- This suggests a strong seasonal/promotional peak in November that was not sustained into December.

2. Category & Product Performance

- Health & Beauty was the top revenue-generating category at $1.26M (9.26%).
- The top 6 categories contributed 45.11% of total revenue.
- This shows that revenue was distributed across several strong-performing categories rather than being dependent on one category.

3. Customer Spending & Retention

- Medium-spending customers generated $9.17M (57.26%) of customer spending.
- Only 3.12% of customers were repeat buyers, compared with 96.88% one-time buyers.
- This shows that although medium-spending customers contribute significantly to revenue, most customers did not make another purchase.

Recommendations

1. Build a Personalized Loyalty Program

Introduce points, discounts, or exclusive offers after each purchase, with a focus on medium-spending and one-time customers.

2. Prepare for Peak-Season Demand

Increase inventory and promotional activities starting in October for high-revenue categories to prepare for the November–December peak.
